M.V.B.C. NEWS ITEMS

On Monday, April 17, the annual Innio-Senior banquet was held in Mountain View Bible College dining room. Kenneth Sherick, the Innior president, with his staff of excellent help, converted the dining room into a fairy land of color, decorating it in yellow, orchid and green, the Senior class colors. The lovely yellow carnations and daffortis were secured through the fine assistance of Mr. Len Berscht.

The theme, "a great door and effectual is open unto me, and there are many adversaries" was depleted in an appropriate chalk seene made by Jeanette Neutled, a high school student in town. She did a masterly piece of work.

While the delicious dinner was being enjoyed, both Juniors and Seniors indulged in exchanging wity predictions concerning each other.

But his speech, captured by wire recording, was relayed before a hand picked group of aviation experts and businesseme Saturday in the KMYR studios. His anazing remarks, reconstructed ran something like this: There is a flying saucer.

The airforce has not abandoned its Operation Saucer as it said.

Four of these saucers have actually landed on the earth.

Three of the four have been captured and are now under research. Thirty-four men, obviously from another planet, and measuring approximately thirty-six inches in height, were found dead in three of the saucers.

The first saucer to land on the earth landed within the last two years and on a site within 500 miles from Denver.

The saucers apparently come from the planet Venus, not Mars. Under research, the metal used in the saucers has disclosed two minerals unknown to the earth man.

Articles found in the first space ship included an instrument which measures times of magnetic force and an odd type of paper with hieroglyphics strange to earth communications.

The captive saucers apparently operate on lines of magnetic force. The lecturer said the first craft to land on earth was ninety-nine and nine-tenth feet in diameter with a central cabin measuring seventy-two inches in height. The second, he said, measured seventy-two feet in length. The third thirty-six feet in length. The third thirty-six feet.

All craft, he said, had a revolving ring of metal encircling the outer edge, and stationary cabins. He implied that the ring might be a controlling force in harnessing lines of magnetic force, or used in guiding the craft itself.

He indicated the saucer is cap-able of manoeuvering in any given direction, that is could land, also in any direction since it had a tri-cycle type landing gear of three metal balls.

SOCIAL SERVICE BILL

Federal expenditures on social services alone in 1948 were nearly as great as the total federal expenditures in 1937. This surprising fact emerged from other equally startling Dominion Department of Labour figures which showed that out of every five dollars spent by Ottawa in 1949, more than one was devoted to some form of social service.

The main items in the 1948 welfare bill in round figures were as follows:
Family allowances $271,000,000
Old age and blind pensions $69,000,000
Unemployment insurance $39,000,000
Various health grants $19,000,000
The total, which includes a number of small items not identified, is $398,000,000 and that is roughly one-fifth of the $1,909,000,000 of total federal expenses in 1948. Compare this welfare outlay with 1939's total federal spending of $473,000,000 and the figures become more than a little surprising. And, for the record, 1949's costs must have run higher, what with liberal payments and increase in population.

If this information hasn't started you thinking, add the following diamond-hard fact to this short study of the socialistic treal in Canada: these expenditures—we could call them debts—are fixed and floxible. They are with us for all time.

If we make an impartial study of the above list of expenditures, we would hesitate to say that any individual item could be dropped. In fact, it would be difficult to even cut any of them to any appreciable extent.

Most of these expenditures can be justified on extent.

Most of these expenditures can be justified on humanitarian grounds, but let there be no misunderstanding on this subject The government does not pay these bills. We, the taxpayers, do.

And if we, the people, the taxpayers, become ensured by the hand-out drug and demand even more in the way of state services and "something for nothing," let us not complain when the tax bill starts to

WHY NOT USE ALL THE EXAMPLES ?

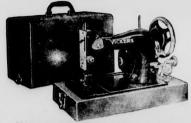

WHY NOT USE ALL THE EXAMPLES?

There is quite a campaign on now to upset the status of electrification in Alberta, from privately owned to publicly owned facilities. The plebiscite two years ago was close, but now the privately owned corporations should be given the opportunity to demonstrate what they will and can do to justify their future existence. Chester Sayers was quite right when during the debate in the legislature he stated that many farms were too isolated to be served by either a privately owned or publicly owned utility. Most of the arguments used on behalf of public ownership in the present campaign are based on Manitoba's publicly owned utility. Why not use some material from Saskatchewan? Manitoba has had a surplus of power since 1910, till now. Her farm population is highly integrated, compared with either Saskatchewan or Alberta, thereby reducing the transmission costs to a comparative minimum. Saskatchewan is having a tough time. Her water power resources are not near enough to her centres of population, and her fuel costs have been high. Now she is preparing to employ natural gas for fuel and possibly the low grade fuel oils from the Lloydminister fields. Publicly owned services are not necessarily free.—Camrose Canadian.

FORAGE SEED ADVICE

Farmers who lite in areas adapted to alsike clover, red clover and alfalfa are advised not to switch to sweet clover production even though seed of the latter legume demand-de exceptionally high prices this year. Ordinarily it does not bring a high price and once introduced into the farm it is considered a weed. This advice is given by J.E. Birdsall, supervisor of crop improvement for the provincial department of agriculture.

safe motor vehicles will be given the opportunity of having their vehicles approved by one of the testing centres and identified as being in a safe condition by one of the Official Safety Stickers.

On Monday, May 1, all officers ssigned to this work in every ection of Alberta, including cities, owns, villages and patrolled roads and highways will begin a system-tic compulsory inspection of all

The principle under which this campaign is being operated is that if the operators of all safe vehicles will have them identified, and by so doing contribute to the cost of the campaign, it will be a compartively simple matter for our present police forces to inspect all other vehicles under the provisions of the Vehicles under the provisions of the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act of the Province, a task which otherwise would obviously be impossible.

THE WONDERFUL NEW GENERAL ELECTRIC FLOOR POLISHER

The back-breaking job of polishing floors by hand or with a clumsy, weighted brush is a thing of the past! The G-E Floor Polisher with counter-rotating brushes does a speedy, gleaming job on hardwood, linoleum, and tile floors ... right up to the baseboard, deep into corners and close to furniture. All you do is guide it over waxed floors and the two fast-moving brushes do all the work.

ADVICE TO SHEEPMEN

AU the annual meetings of Sheep directors Association, Ontario and Canadian, held in Toronto early in February, guest speakers offered sound advice, not only to those who raise purebreds but also to flock owners all across Canada. One point stressed was that the time had come when farmers should be encouraged to keep larging and the fact that production has not met the requirements of manufacturers in Canada created a situation that gave promise of satisfactory prices to producers for some years to come.

to producers for some years to come.

It has become common know-ledge that the world stock-pile of wool which stood at over ten million bales of around 300 pounds each at the close of the war has dwindled to an insignificant half million bales. As Is well known also, each succeeding year has shown consumption well in excess of production with little hope for improvement in 1950. In short, the world situation justifies a reasonable assurance that wool prices should continue to be favorable to Prevents Caffle Loss On the 29th of March about 500 visitors attended Achievement Day at the Olds School of Agriculture and many people from the Dids bury district were in attendance. There were almost 200 students enrolled in the school and the work that both boys and girls accomplished was a credit to themselves, their instructors and toclege. The program started with fashion parade in the gymnasum room at 2:00 o'clock, when the girls of the various classes modelled garments, including suits, coats, street dresses and afternoon and evening dresses. Visitors had the opportunity to inspect class rooms and observe the work done by students during them. There were many garments made for babies, girls and women with beautiful hand work done on each. Also a very fine display of tatting, terocheting, knitting, leather work, and shell work.
